Building Futures, Changing Lives

This is a story about a building... but so much more than walls and a roof.

It's a story about people and about the futures that are being built every day through the mission of Helping People Succeed.

Helping People Succeed. The name says it all – through education, counseling, training and employment, families and their children and adults with disabilities have the chance to re-direct the trajectory of their lives.

Building Futures in our own Building!

A stable home where people are nurtured and dreams can flourish... That's what Helping People Succeed strives to provide for all of the individuals we serve. Now we need that stable home ourselves!

Our location in Jensen Beach is ideal.

- centrally located for clients in both Martin and St. Lucie counties.
- room to house all of our programs and care for our participants with dignity and respect.
- the capacity to dream again, to say "what if," and then pursue new and better ways to serve.

"This building offers stability and respect to the people we serve."

Mary Rose and Richard Bressman
Co-chairs
Building Futures, Changing Lives

How can we build on what this facility offers? By purchasing the building and assuring our participants that we're here for them today and we'll be here for them tomorrow.

A permanent home makes good business sense.

- mortgage-free.
- funds going to programs, not rent.
- room to grow our own services and welcome our community partners.

"We're taking our destiny into our own hands by purchasing the building, creating an endowment, and reducing our dependence on government funds."

– Bliss Browne, Chair of the Board
